Michigan Con Turns On Higgins Lake Gas Lines

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company today began operation of its $1,000,000 natural gas distribution and supply system serving the Higgins Lake area. James C. Preston, general manager of the utility's Northern District, with headquarters in Mt. Pleasant, joined local company and Lyon and Gerish township officials for the valve turning ceremony.

Higgins Lake is the largest project in the company's $2.5 million program to extend natural gas to eight additional communities in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula this year. It required some 60 miles of distribution and supply lines and will supply homes on all but the sparsely populated northern and northeastern corner of the lake.

Robert L. McIntosh, manager of the Grayling Area of Operation for Michigan Consolidated, which now includes Higgins Lake, said company crews are already installing meters in customers' homes and turning on service.

He said that as soon as a customer has had his fuel line connected to an appliance or furnace, he should call the Grayling office (Enterprise 7162) and ask to have his service turned on. Michigan Consolidated will have a full time serviceman stationed at Higgins Lake to handle work in the area.

Bottled gas appliances will be converted free of charge to use natural gas, and other types of furnaces can be converted by heating contractors at nominal cost.

Preston said Michigan Consolidated is extremely pleased to become an industrial citizen of this fine residential and resort community.

"We have had excellent cooperation from township officials, and homeowners have been very cordial in receiving us. Michigan Consolidated's continued expansion in northern Michigan indicates the confidence we have in the economic growth of the area and Michigan as a whole."

Michigan Guard Troops Now In "Beefed Up" Field Training Plan

More than 9,000 Michigan National guardsmen and Army reservists rolled into Camp Grayling last Saturday to begin the 52nd annual training encampment.

Eighty-five hundred Michigan guardsmen, who trace their military heritage to the Black Hawk War of 1832, are the bulk of the troops on post until July 2.

Major emphasis on this year's two-week summer camp will be

"Little Smokey" Has a Day

About forty people attended a "Golden Spike" luncheon at the Chief Shoppens Motor Hotel Monday noon honoring Mr. and Mrs. Alan Barkley and their steam railroad, "Little Smokey".

The newest attraction at Grayling's Bear Mountain, year around recreation area was installed by the Barkleys and the luncheon and the day honoring the attraction were the community's way of showing their appreciation.

Speaking briefly at the luncheon program were Earl Longworth, manager of the Grayling Area Chamber of Commerce, John H. Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank, Lewis Stillwagon, president of the Grayling Recreation Area committee and Mr. Barkley.

Golden spike souvenirs were placed at each table setting courtesy the Grayling Bank. The Barkleys were presented with a large engraved plaque which carried a facsimile of the steam engine and a message from the Recreation Area committee.

A ribbon cutting ceremony took place at the "Little Smokey" railroad station site following the luncheon. Taking part were Major General Clarence Schnipke, Adjutant General of Michigan, Major General Cecil L. Simmons, Commanding General of the 46th Division, Michigan National Guard and Mr. and Mrs. Barkley.

All attending were treated to a train ride following the event.

Camp Walkway Taken At Ithaca

A minor whose home is in Lansing was apprehended in Ithaca about 2:45 p. m. in a car which had been stolen in Grayling earlier last Monday. The youth was a member of a Camp LaVictoire work crew.

He left a work crew at the Grayling State Fish Hatchery and shortly after a station wagon belonging to Sam Gust of Grayling was reported stolen. An alert was sent out from the Sheriff's office resulting in the apprehension of the walkway.

Leonard Gezequel took pictures of the event and Mrs. Edwin Funk cut and served the special cake.

Announcement was made at the 125th annual District Conference of the Methodist Church held in Adrian last week that Rev. Smith would be transferred to the Commercial Methodist Church in the placed on testing the selected reserve (SRF) units of the National Guard.

The 2nd Brigade of Michigan's 46th Infantry Division was named in November as a part of the back-up force of 150,000 men in reserve units throughout the nation.

Michigan's 27 SRF units will undergo battalion level testing as a completion to seven months of stepped-up training.

The SRF units are from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint, Alma, Ionia, Lapeer, Saginaw, Port Huron, Greenville, Holland, Grand Haven, Big Rapids and Owosso.

The remainder of the Michigan guard forces, nearly 5,000 men, will assist in testing the SRF units, in addition to completing normal training exercises.

For the first time in recent memory recruit basic training is being given to 800 guardsmen. The training is being conducted by the 330th Basic Combat Training Regiment of the 70th Army Reserve Division from Detroit.

The guardsmen are being given the two-week basic course because they are currently unable to receive normal Army basic training. An overflow of recruits at regular basic training sites due to the troop buildup for the Vietnam war has clogged the training centers.

The abbreviated training course will stress the use of the M-1 rifle.

GUARD BAND CONCERT TONIGHT

There will be a band concert by the 46th Division Michigan National Guard band, this Thursday, June 23rd at 7:30 p. m. on the Courthouse lawn, under direction of Warrant Officer Charles Berry. The public is cordially invited.

instruction on tactical maneuvers and marching techniques.

If the pressure of the Vietnamese situation is eased, the recruits will then undergo normal basic training. Men from the 3rd Brigade of Flint, the 1st Brigade of Detroit and the 107th Engineers Battalion of Ishpeming are being trained by the reservists.

Saturday morning Governor George Romney will arrive at Camp Grayling to conduct the annual division review. The commander-in-chief of the Michigan National Guard will watch as the more than 9,000 men pass in review on the parade field. U. S. Senator Robert Griffin will join Governor Romney on the reviewing stand.

Michigan National Guardsmen who took part in the Mexican Border War 50 years ago have been invited to attend the review.

These troops mustered at Camp Grayling, then known as the Hanson State Military Reservation, at a time when called on by President Woodrow Wilson to defend the formidable border raids from Mexico. In addition to troops from Michigan, Army reservists from three states are training now at Camp Grayling. Included are a cavalry unit, an Army security company, a chemical company and two civil affairs companies.

Seek Highway Buffer Strip

Bernard J. Fowler, Grayling Township Supervisor and chairman of the Crawford County Board of Supervisors and Earl H. Longworth manager of the Grayling Area Chamber of Commerce met Monday morning with Brig. General Carson R. Crawford Co. One School District

The consolidation of the Frederic and Grayling school districts received the blessing of the county electors by a majority of 196 votes at Monday's election. This makes Crawford County a one-school-district county.

The Frederic vote was 108 yes and 53 no, the Grayling vote 161 yes and 20 no, for a total of 342—269 yes and 73 no.

With this action the two school districts are no more, the extra millage voted for operation ceases to be in effect, both school boards are dissolved including the posts of the newly elected board members, so a drawing to decide the vote for Marilyn Longworth and James Kolka becomes unnecessary.

The newly-elected trustees of the COOR Intermediate School Board are to appoint seven members to the interim board of the combined district, which will serve until another election can be legally held on August 2. This interim board will choose a name for the new district.

The last day to file nominating petitions to run for the permanent board of trustees for the newly-formed district is July 5th. Petitions may be obtained from the interim board secretary as yet unknown. Call Supt. Joseph Stripe at the high school for further particulars.

An account of those chosen for the interim board and the officers elected will appear in next week's Avalanche.

The only other election favoring a merger occurred in Ogemaw County, which combines the O'Connor School District with the already combined districts of Rose City and West Branch. This makes Ogemaw County virtually a one-school-district county except for a few small parcels near the county's borders that were attached to school districts in other counties. The results were 160 for and 23 against.

The Mio-Fairview merger was voted down by balloting as follows: Mio 262 yes, 199 no, Fairview 83 yes, 265 no.

The Roscommon consolidation was turned down 831 to 471, with the Houghton Lake district voting 207 yes, 473 no, Roscommon 227 yes, 288 no and St. Helen 37 yes and 70 no.

Pays Fine And Cost On Charge

LeRoy Gary Adams, 23, of Connersville, Indiana, paid a total fine of $70 and costs of $30 before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson last Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of indecent exposure. Adams, who was in the area attached to the Indiana National Guard, was arrested on the charge by Deputy Sheriff John Galloway. Following complaints, City of Grayling police as well as Sheriff's officers had been on the outlook for Adams.

Added to the fine and costs were a jail stay of 120 days if the fine and costs were not paid. They were paid in full. Also a 100 day jail stay was suspended on the condition that he leave the county immediately.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

I'm missing from this picture. I belong right between the subjects. For the old gentleman on the right is my father... and the young gentleman on the left is my son. But someone had to snap the picture.

It was taken on a Sunday afternoon. Earlier the three of us had walked to church. And Grandpa — (you know how you come to call your own father "Grandpa" after you have a son) — well, Grandpa put his hand on Jimmy's shoulder.

"You know, Jimmy," he said, "I've been walking to church down this street ever since it was a cowpath. And I used to think real proud-like, when I walked your father to church, that the Lord never gave me a bigger job to do than raise my son—a Christian. But I feel just as proud walkin' by you — like all my important work 'snt' done yet!"

Understand why I wanted this picture? And why I call it "Unfinished Business?"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four solid reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Something IS Wrong . . .

Barron's, the respected business and financial weekly, recently devoted a lengthy frontpage feature editorial to what many may consider an unusual and even hocking thesis. It says flatly "... the New Economics, which the late Lord Keynes did so much to inspire, has collapsed." John Maynard Keynes was a British economist who introduced the theory that governments could end depressions and the fluctuations of business cycles by bold public spending, deficit financing and taxation. s, Time magazine pointed out only last December, we're all Keynesians now", meaning that the United States had accepted the Keynesian philosophy or theory and there was wide belief that it was workable.

A few months ago, in its Economic Report to the President, the Council of Economic Advisers offered the following complacent appraisal: "Twenty years of experience have demonstrated our ability to avoid ruinous inflations and severe depressions. It is now within our capabilities to set more ambitious goals . . . It is a tribute to our success under the Employment Act that we now have not only the economic understanding but also the will and determination to use economic policy as an effective tool for progress." But something has gone wrong—so wrong that one columnist, referring to the Economic Report, declared that it has taken on the curious faded look of an old photograph album. And indeed it has. In the words of Barron's, "Few state papers have ever outlived their usefulness quite so fast. On the basis of its estimates, the White House in January urged a modestly restrictive new tax program. It was drawn up and passed with scant debate, the measure repeals much of last year's excise tax relief (which thus goes down as one of the briefest tax cuts in legislative annals)." It also provided for the speedup of payment of corporate and personal income tax liabilities.

Events since January have moved with stunning rapidity, and there is now talk of further substantial increases in taxes to fight an inflation that was officially unforeseen a few short months ago. The prospect of new and stiffer taxes piled on top of the present mounting tax burden led one prominent business spokesman to say, it is "difficult to understand how anyone who believes in the private enterprise system can advocate federal income taxes, except as a very last resort, in a fight against inflation."

Additional evidence of the sudden switch in the tide of economic affairs comes from the President himself, who suddenly expressed grave concern over the soaring cost of living. Admittedly, the war in Viet Nam has introduced a complicating factor in the economic picture, but beyond that, questions are being raised as to the efficacy of the tools that gauge and guide the economy. There are three major government economic pulse takers—the Census Bureau, which provides information on unemployment and retail sales, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which issues wholesale and consumer price indices, and the Office of Business Economics, which deals with gross national product and balance of payments. The statistics compiled by these agencies are often released long after the development that they report. Moreover, like most statistics, they can be interpreted in many ways.

The present situation seems to make one fact eminently clear: Despite Lord Keynes, his theories, and New Economics, government is not a proven fountain of wisdom. Barron's concluded its discussion of the disarray of the New Economics with a word of advice that makes sense: "What should be done, of course, is hold down federal spending. Here despite loose talk about 'extremely tight' control over nondefense expenditures, the budget fairly bulges with places to cut."

Statistical devices to measure the economic pulse are essential, and government can do much to aid in easing economic ups and downs, but in the end, governments like individuals, must submit to reality even though it means cutting out some butter in favor of guns.

Immediately after the "All Clear" sounded a meeting of the Chiefs of the Civilian Defense divisions met at the control center and heard the report of our local observers, Harold MacNeven and Alfred Hanson. The observers reported a complete blackout during the "Red" period. Later the Commander received notice that the district observer reported Crawford Co. completely blacked out. A few violations were reported by the air raid wardens and auxiliary police. This was expected in our first blackout. The operation of the public was excellent.

Saturday night at 10:20 p. m. Edward Kaplinski of Jackson made a forced landing on the Grayling Golf Course, with his Kinner Play Boy plane because his motor was not functioning properly. Mr. Kaplinski was en route to Lewiston but when he saw his plane acting peculiar, he immediately thought of some place to land. Knowing that the Airport was strictly military he did not attempt to land there but thought the golf course a private airport. In landing the plane went nose over yet caused only minor damages.
